

10 Bloomsbury Way, London, Holborn WC1A 2SL

Description:

The designers took their inspiration from the area's publishing heritage when they designed this cultured serviced office.

This space is perfect combination of heritage and culture mixed up into a relaxing atmosphere, making it ideal for creatives and just to sit there and think. The building is whimsically designed to include a card room, with a house piano and poker table - so why not serenade your team with renditions of your favourite sing-a-long while playing cards? There are amenities here you may not find in other locations such as an on-site cafe and indoor garden. They have also included lounges, showers and bike storage so those practical needs are taken care of too.
